Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3,8,10 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Elam, et al-4088131.

Elam discloses a device having a body portion with a 1st opening 36 in communication with a gas supply 18, a 2nd opening 26 in communication with a user. The gas is delivered from the 1st opening to the 2nd opening during inhalation, but a valve redirects air from the supply and 1st opening to go through 1st and 2nd auxiliary openings 30 during exhalation so that excess breathing gas is vented to the atmosphere.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 3761

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 9, 11 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Elam, et al.-'131.

Elam discloses the invention as claimed with the exception of the humidification means. As it is well-known in the art to humidify inhalation gases, to have provided such a means in Elam's device would have been an obvious design choice in order to provide moister air which is easier to breathe for certain patients.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4-7 and 14-21 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12-11-02 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 3761

The insertion of a "spontaneously breathing patient" has little or no bearing on the apparatus claims at hand. In addition, col. 5 lines 59-65 state that the device can be used on a spontaneously breathing patient. Regardless, one could use the device on such a patient if one so desired. If it were used on such a patient, the prior art device would still perform as presently claimed. Upon inhalation, air flows from port 36 into bag 14 and through port 26 into tube 16 inserted into the patient. Upon exhalation, the valve 12 acts to redirect the airflow from source 18 to go through auxiliary ports 30 instead of through 2nd opening 26.

The statement that if the oxygen were not selected that the user might suffocate if the bag were not compressed is irrelevant since there is no exclusion of the bag being compressed in the claim.

If oxygen were selected and the device used on a breathing patient, there would not be a need for the device to provide positive pressure to the patient during exhalation.

As noted by the examiner it is obvious to provide a source of breathing gas with a humidification means to provide more palatable breathing gas. Note the Lang reference which teaches humidifying breathing gas which is delivered to a patient.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
